My goal... pursuing a career in information and interaction design.

At the Fall Break Chicago Road Show: Art Design & Direction with Tandemoda

Don’t miss the Winter Road Shows’ application deadline Monday, Nov. 26!

Don’t be afraid to approach someone at an event – that’s how I met fashion von Zuma Lyons, of J. Crew this summer!

Kyle Newton, who will graduate in May 2013 with a communication design degree, interned with the Council of Fashion Designers of America in New York.

Getting to know myself...
I met my Career Advisor, Jen Meyer, at the Career Camp before junior year. Finding an advisor who knows the industry you are interested in is really important.

Bringing my story to life...
To land an internship, I participated in Pro Practice workshops and researched the design industry. Once I found the CFDA, I contacted one of their employees, sent my resume, interviewed and got the job. Networking in your field is crucial: go to events, be involved, get to know people!

At the CFDA, I designed event materials, managed social media posts, and helped plan many industry events.

Up next... Ideally, I would like to pursue a career in information and interaction design in Chicago.

FROM PASSION SPRINGS PURPOSE

"Know your industry. You can never know enough about what new ideas are floating around the market."

Kyle’s Career Tip

3,500+
In 2011-12, the Career Center posted more than 3,500 internship opportunities.

THIS WEEK’S OPPORTUNITIES

U.S. Department of State
Worldwatch Institute
Sumazi
MEMC Electronic Materials
Epic Systems Corporation
Saks Fifth Avenue
Sterling Reference Laboratories
National Security Agency/Central Security Service
Institute for Humane Studies

EVENTS

Nov. 12
Speed Architecture Portfolio Reviews

Nov. 14
Marketing Mix: What is Marketing?
Fall Etiquette Dinner

Nov. 16
Fashion Futures

Nov. 17
Quick Advising: Architecture Portfolio Reviews

For more information, visit careercenter.wustl.edu